

I like that. You're proportional to me

yea it feels like we're
the same species.

Do you have a toothbrush I can borrow

I don't want a used toothbrush back you can't borrrrow it you can keep it. It's like saying "can I borrow a bandaid" lol like you're not giving that back.

Do you want to come over?

Anytime I tell
anyone about you
I start with, ohhhh
it's going to end
terribly, I'm sure.

On the train and a mother with her son is explaining to the conductor that she bought the wrong ticket and is offering to pay for a different one, and the conductor explained what she should do next time and was like, but it's ok for today. And he left and the mother smiled and turned to her son, i was ready to pay more but he was so nice. You see, sometimes you make a mistake and it doesn't cost you.

I feel like all my mistakes cost me. But then I remember how fucking filthy rich I am, in youth and joy and love, patience, forgiveness, and realize I can afford it 🙏🙏

Which part did you like most?

I wish I could give you a thousand dollars

Are you going to come visit me?
