THE TWO SISTERS OF BARROW

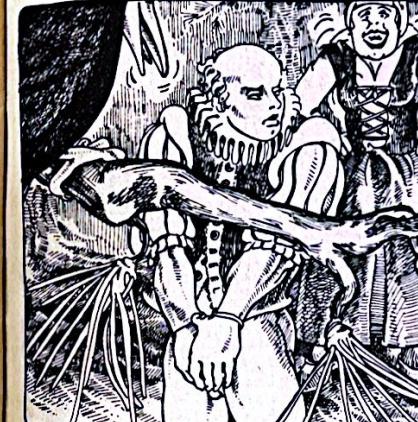

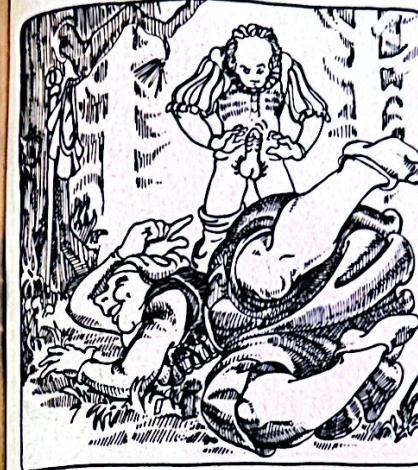

TAKEN FROM THE BOOK OF NOTABLE WOMEN
BY KAREN FEINBERG-ILLUSTRATED BY J.FARMER

ONCE THERE WERE TWO SISTERS WHO LIVED NEAR THE VILLAGE OF BARROW.

The elder scared no man, and did what she pleased. The younger was quiet and rather timid, and quite beautiful. With them there lived a crow, which the elder sister had found in the forest as a fledgling fallen from the nest. The bird went everywhere with her, and obeyed her commands. It was believed, in fact, that the crow could understand human speech.
